

Advisor and Advisory Committee

After a student has been admitted to WRM, he/she will identify a faculty advisor after consultation with Nelson Institute staff members and/or the WRM chairperson. This advisor is normally linked to the area of specialty which the student has identified. Prior to their second semester, students should identify two other faculty to balance their interdisciplinary committee and then schedule their Evaluation and Guidance conference (E&G).